COOKIE POLICY

This page explains how we use cookies when you visit and browse the Website.

1.   What is a cookie?

The term "cookie" refers to a small computer file identified by a name and stored on your connected device (PC, tablet, smartphone…) by your internet browser. A cookie records and stores information relating to your use of the Website and which can be read directly by Eutelsat's servers when you visit the Website, or your subsequent visits or requests on the Website, subject to the settings you choose concerning this file via the Website.

2.   What are cookies used for?

There are different types of cookies whose uses and content are various, temporary and persistent:

- Temporary cookies contain information which is used during your session. These cookies are automatically deleted when you close your browser. Nothing is saved on your computer once you finish browsing.

- Persistent cookies are used to store information which can be used between visits. This data allows websites to recognise that you are a returning user and react accordingly. Persistent cookies have a long-term value which is defined by the site.

According to the URL and the pages of the Website, there may be different types of cookies:

Cookies required for the operation of the Website
These cookies allow optimum functionality of the website. If you block these cookies, neither access to the services offered by the Website nor the correct operation of can be guaranteed. You can nevertheless refuse and delete these cookies via your browser's settings.

Audience measurement and statistical cookies
Audience measurement cookies compile statistics on the number of visitors and use of our services. Statistics on the frequency of visits, content and pages viewed, adverts on our space can be collected. These statistics help improve the interest and usability of our services and ensure the monitoring of invoicing for third-party advertisers by, in particular, tracking the total number of adverts displayed. Deactivating these cookies prevents us from monitoring and improving the quality of our services. You can choose the settings for these cookies by clicking on Cookie.

Cookies allowing targeted adverts to be displayed
Cookies allowing appropriate and targeted content and adverts to be displayed are installed by us or by third-parties (advertiser, advertising agencies). They enable us to tailor our advertising space to your display preferences and your interests and offer you content that you are likely to enjoy. You can choose the settings for these cookies by clicking on Cookie.

Cookies for sharing on social networks
Cookie files may be installed on your device by social network sites such as Facebook, Instagram, Twitter, LinkedIn… to allow the sharing of content for our services. These social network sites are present on our services in the form of buttons which allow these social networks to identify you during your browsing on our services and share content from our services. We do not monitor these cookies or the data collected by social networks which act in their own interest. For more information on these applications and how they are used we recommend you consult the privacy policy of each of these social networks. You can choose the settings for these cookies by clicking on Cookie.
